MAY'S A CRADLE. Winter tries to keep us tame.
Chains us with her fectors chill;
Dear desir's a little lame,
When the snow is on the sil,
Winds of winter seem to kill
Tender hopes; we plan in vain.
There's no moving onward till
Lel in May we're born again!

Some there are who sigh for fame,
Wart to climb the rocky fill;
Others take the Cupid's game,
Sparks from Hymen's altars spill.
Poets drive the artest quil,
For to tell us they are lain
All the thoughts that through them thrill.
Lo! in May we're bern again!

May deserves the sweetest name, Let us praise her with a will! She's adamsel, not a dame: Come to charm, and not to drill— Flowers ster her lairy frill. Worship her in nature's fame, Where the birds in repture trill; Let in May we're born again!

Some there be who idly claim
May's a month of subtle ill
Since then Cupid doth inflame
Of the hearts of Jack and Jill;
That May's blossoms sweet instill
Thoughts of love—'tis surely gain,
Love's a sugar-coated pill—
Lo! in May we're born again!

Laughs the red blood like a rill,
As is leaps from vein to vein.
Joig the dance and hang the bill!
Lo! in May we're born again!

WOMEN WITH DECRITFUL WAYS. How They Pull the Wool Over the Eyes o

Frontyn Eagle.

"Some of the funniest and even strang est things that evertake place anywhere occur in the lobby of a theatre," said Mr. Walter Sinn recently. "It will pay you as a newspaper man to hang around you as a newspaper man to hang around here for a while," he continued, "and keep your ears and your eyes open." I followed his advice, and the first thing I heard persuaded me that some married men pay much too heavily for their theatrical amusements. Two ladies walked up to the window where Treasurer Richardson presides with ability and patience. One of the ladies asked for two 75 cent seats. She was shown the box office sheet, and the location of two good seats not yet sold. She said the seats would do very well and began to look for the money for them. Her companion said mwait a minute, mister. Say, Mary, why don't you buy two fifty-cent tickets? He won't know the difference, and we can have some ice cream."

can have some ice cream."

The proposition was promptly agreed to. On the evening of the same day, just as the audience was leaving the theatre a man, his wife and a lady friend stopped, and the last named lady stepped up to Manager Sinn and warmly thanked him for some kindness which she seemed to think he had done her. All of the three persons were entire strangers to bim.

him.

The following day he got an explanation. The lady had gone through her husband's pockets and treated him to an evening at the theatre, where she could never get him to take her. She practiced a little deceit upon him by getting her friend to tell him that she (the friend) had received the tickets as complimentaries from the management of the Park. The profuse thanks to Mr. Sinn were only a finale to the clever little deceit.

A bear hunt, which extended over three States, ended at Chambersburg, this State, on Sunday. On last Friday theory is that it proceeds from excessive circulation at the centers of the nerves affected, thus affecting the glands. "An excess of nerve force in any part of the body contracts the blood vessels in that part. Any application that can reduce this lorce tends to restore the circulation to a normal condition. Another kind of bay fever dilates the blood vessels, especially those within the skull, bringing on a leverish skin." Treatment with ice is Dr. Kinnear's cure. It is applied in rubber bags to the spine, but whether at the neck, behind the abdomen or all along the spine depends upon whether the patient suffers from contractile or expansile bay fever. Dr. Kinnear says he worked out his hypothesis in practice with results entirely satisfactory, curing hay fever, catarrh, asthma, sneezing sphansa and kindred troubles with unfailing success.

THE IRON MARKET.

The Outlook Shows Some Signs of Improvement in the Last Few Days. Philadelphia Record of Suburday.

The fact is dwelt upon in rall circles that there is fully as much projected work as there has been at this season for many years, and the belief is expressed that when the withheld demand does come prices of almost all iron and steel present writing no corresponding re-duction has been made. The present present writing no corresponding reduction has been made. The present anthracite output per week is $5,000 tons, against $9,000 tons on February 1, and of coke iron 08,000 tons. Ten furnaces have blown out in that time and a canvass yesterday pointed to the probability of nine or ten more blowing out within thirty days, though the action of the furnace companies will be determined by the developments in the Southern fron trade during the next two weeks. Bessemer iron is in no wise affected, nor are a few special brands of foundry which always have their own market. Mill irons are only indirectly affected, and should bar iron requirements reach normal summer proportions forge iron will not sell much, if any, under $15 for standard brands. Quotations for No. I foundry are $16 50 and $17.00. A great deal hinges on what the Southern iron makers are able to do. Chattanocga advices show that there is no accumulation and no dimination in output. In Western pig iron markets no effort is being made by makers or brokes to unload or secure contracts for future delivery at present prices. There is no deeply scated belief that exnanding summer requirements this State, on Sunday. On last Friday a big 200-pound black bear was driven out of the mountains of West Virginia by a party of hunters and swam the Potomac river. Bruin made his first appearance at Williamsport, Md., on Saturday morning, and terrified the town, several dozen hunters and packs of hounds going after him without success. He then crossed the Mason and Dixon line into Pennsylvania, and made his

A PECULIAR SUICIDE.

Another of those strange cases suicide which are peculiar to Paris has taken place. A dressmaker who had taken place. A dressmaker who had been disappointed in love resolved to make away with herself; but she on several occasions told her friends that she did not like to die, as she was too fond of her lapdog—a little black spaniel called Mimi. At last she fully made up her mind to die with her dog, which she sing from her window, shree stories high, and then jumped out after it. The ill-fated dressmaker was ploked up in a dying condition and conveyed to a hospital, where she expired. The dog had to be shot to end its sufferings.

come prices of almost all iron and steel products will advance. Sales for the week 30,000 tons; small lots, $23; large lots, $27. The pig iron situation, so far as foundry iron is concerned, is improving since the cut of Monday, or rather-the open announcement that secret rates heretofore made were to be regular quotations. The only element of uncertainty now is what can and will the Southern iron makers do in foundrier. The temper of Northern buyers is to buy cauthously even at the drop. Representatives of Southern companies were taken by surprise at the action of Pennsylvania makers this week, and up to present writing no corresponding re-makers or brokels to unload or secure contracts for future delivery at present prices. There is no deeply seated belief that expanding summer requirements will soon clear up all stocks and bring wider margins, at least on finished fron. The bar iron demand has improved somewhat among interior mills, and within forty-eight hours mail inquiries show that large buyers are only awaiting the right time to strike. Card rates, $1.00 at 80. The same improvement is seen in nails, though the larger stocks forbid any early advance. Plate and strictural from makers are booking more orders, but few of them are of much magnitude. Belt-line and railroad terminal work will be plenty during June, as is indicated by the progress of negotiations for plate and shape material. Eastern pipe-makers have not had all the work they could do, but Western mills have been filled up and an overflow business is awaited East. The sheet iron makers are eathing up. The merchant steel mills are better off than for three months. Muck bars are firm at $27. All the bloomers are doing well. Car builders are working up old supplies and are not buying much new stuff. Parties well bloomers are doing well. Car builders are working up old supplies and are not buying much new stuff. Parties well informed state that a good many carbuilding contracts will be given out before June 30. Locomotive work is scarce. Railway managers admit in some instances that pressing wants in the way of rolling stock and equipments are being held back. The demand for Lake ores is active, but large buyers are awaiting concessions in freights by water before placing all their orders. Late foreign news shows continued activity in all forge and mill products as well as in ship and marine engine building. Furnaces in Clevoland district have been damped for want of coal.

Bradstrets Report.

Business in the wool markets exhibits the usual conditions of the season. Manufacturers are buying sparingly on the seaboard, while in the country holders are confidently looking for higher prices for the new clip. Woolon goods are selling moderately in such a way as not to influence the raw material particularly one way or the other. New California and Texas supplies are beginning to arrive on the coast. Values, on the whole, are firm for desirable selections, but irregular as regards broken lots.

he then crossed the Mason and Dixon line into Pennsylvania, and made his next appearance near Green Castle. There another big hunting party was organized, but the animal escaped the men and dogs.

On Sunday morning Bruin was seen near small towns in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, and the whole neighborhood turned out to hunt him. Late in the afternoon he was seen near Quinzy, eight miles from Chambersburg, making his way up the North Mountains. A big crowd of men and dogs started after rim. The dogs treed the bear, and he was finally dispatched after showing fight.

Professional Cards. G. W. ATKINSON,

Coming events cast their Shadows before." PEARLINE

From the start, the shadows have read, Pyle's Pearline is mightier than soap, muscle and washboard combined. It is the modern soap. Nowadays one cannot afford to reject a new idea because it promises "big things." These are days of "big things." Wide awake men and women are looking for them. She who refuses the aid of PEARLINE is behind the times—far behind. She might as well reject the comfort and aid of the steam car—sewing machine—telegraph—electric light, etc., because she does not believe in them. Millions appreciate Pearline, and have for years. Millions more will appreciate it-you will-why not begin at once to Its prodigious popularity proves its merit-you Beware offering initations which they claim to be Pearline, or "the same as Pearline," IT'S FALSE—they are not, and besides are dangerous. PEARLINE is never pedded, but sold by all good gracers.
